NOTICE.
We have a considerable number of outstanding accounts, which we need an immediate settlement. If you have been for these accounts, please pay them for small sums, and have been standing on our books for several months, we cannot afford to let them remain unpaid any longer.

The liquor-men re-assert, not there is no Ordinance against the sale of intoxicating liquors in Colorado. They raise a technical objection, but they say that no certificate of publication was obtained until a week or two back, and therefore that it is not the very last place to which the liquor-men like to be brought.

The Four Hills are reached with timber, and contain almost every variety of building material. Some of the rivers are of water power of the finest character.

In short, Colorado offers all a western resource possesses. — Mining, agriculture and manufacturing industries are as good as secured, and the climate is healthy and delightful home.

The Pass County people are justly proud of the Tornado, and the fact that it has done so much physical damage in their section. It is a pity that along as they are so proud of the fact, they do not take any steps to prevent such a disaster from happening again.
 The tornado which struck the country primarily in Pass County, struck the State in the southeastern part, and passed on to the north. It did not do much damage in the north, but it did in the south-diseases, and other ailments.

The progress already made by the Town is eminently rapid—up to date—that is, little more than eighteen months from the commencement of the enterprise—there have been 500 certificates of membership taken out out of most of which no locations have been made. The population, according to the nearest estimate we can form, is between 1,000 and eighteen hundred. The various institutions necessary to a well ordered community, have been quickly got into working order. There are two churches, built, one in course of erection. There are a library, a newspaper, a post-office, two public schools, hotels, of all kinds, well stocked, numerous boarding houses, a telegraph office, a well-stocked, numerous boarding houses, the necessaries of life can be obtained—livery stables, etc. The town has been organized with trustees and other officers, and several companies, have been formed for the purpose of improving and commercializing the country, including a steam saw-mill in active operation, for the purpose of growing, etc. In short, the town has been organized for growing, progress and prosperity.

To such, therefore, is seeking new homes, Colorado offers advantages of the highest order.
